

SS 13 Wins Increases Lead

Effective date: 2017-09-18

Hello everyone and very pleasant Week 2 to all of you. This is SS subbing in for JP for the next couple of weeks while he takes care of his ever increasing family. SS's 13 wins lead the pack but everyone had a good week with many members earning double digit wins. 12 Wins by JP, KS, LF, MM and MS paced ahead of the others. Speaking of KS, the reigning champ, he bounced back this week but still finds himself out by four. This time last year his 23 wins were good enough to be in first place. Although JP is up to elbows in diapers and late night feeding, he has composed himself to have 23 wins and shares second place with the true freshman out of Utah MS. LF's 12 wins moved him up to third while CM,DP, KS, MM, and NF share fourth place-- four games out. Clarification for the postponed TB-MIA game. When game is played in week 11 everyone will be able to have their pick regardless how they picked the game in week one. Week one pick was just a placeholder to close the week. Remember Thursday game Rams at 49ers.
