

BS Comes within Two Points of the Elusive Perfect Week

After a 14-1 Week, BS Grabs the Penthouse with Force

Effective date: 2017-10-26

That's right folks, BS gets the headline and the byline this week. Greetings from the Dulles International Airport and please forgive the delay. Children, travel, and long days with clients have gotten in the way of my top priority: your esteemed president. In a week where the MIP subsided for much of membership, BS came within a Thursday night game of being perfect. If the last few weeks have shown us anything, it's that 2017 is the year that BS has, so far, collared the MIP. Excellent picking sir!

Honorable mention this week is reserved for DP who locked in a very solid 13 winners. DP also has a big birthday coming up this week (Friday), so lets see if he can keep riding his momentum and make some movement on the leaderboard. Speaking of the leaderboard, LF, MS and SS all had solid picking weeks and maintained their positions at the top of the pack. At this point in the season—which will be at the half way mark after this week—BS is the force to be reckoned with. In three short weeks he's gone from middle of the pack to two games up. He's on a runner!

Week 8 is another short week, so we'll see if this great league broke the MIP last week or if it'll be back with force this week. Tune in next Monday night to find out.

Happy Picking.

JP