

BS and JP post big weeks

KS stumbles, gives way to BS and SS

Effective date: 2018-09-18

Week 2 brought us a flurry of close games that came down to final drives, which proved to tip the power balance early on. BS and JP share honors for most wins this week at 11 while SS rattled off a 10 piece of his own, enough to secure a spot atop the leader board with our defending champ BS. Great picking gents.

TB was taken as a loner pick for the second consecutive week, this time BS shows guts and notches the victory over PHI. On the other side, LF takes one to the teeth as DEN puts away OAK in the final seconds to thwart his attempt at loner pick glory.

In this 38th season, PFVCC history was made as a second game in as many weeks ended in a tie to begin the NFL year. Will we see a third? Stay tuned.

Looking ahead, a majority of members look to have bounce back performances in week 3, while those at the top attempt to repeat their efforts. The stage is set, its time for Act 3.

Happy Picking,

LF, The PIMP
