

KS Dominates week 15; makes power move on the leaderboards

LF and SS counter; gain a game on SR

Effective date: 2021-12-22

When PFVCC writers were doing their research for the week, very few mentioned KS as a potential standout. In fact, to this point many had written him off (no pun intended), not thinking that with 4 weeks to go a 10 game deficit would be able to be mounted... Those same writers are biting their tongues and wondering why they threw dirt on a 4-time champ who quietly came out and put on a picking clinic in week 15. In an overall dominant performance with his back against the wall, KS went 14-2 and swept his GOO with the leader to jump up into the 4th spot. He now finds himself 6 back with 3 to go and from what I've been hearing in the PFVCC statistician meetings, no one is doubting KS any longer.. Way to silence the critics KS! LF and SS were honorable mentions with their 11 wins on the week, and both were able to steal a game from SR in the process. LF moves up into a tie for the top spot with SR, and SS sits at 3 back. Wild times ahead!

We had 2 loners on display in week 15, although once again one wasn't highlighted for us at the start. BS was the fellow who flew under the radar once again and scored big on his NO pick who shut out Tom Brady and the TB crew. Well played on the gutsy pick, BS! DP was our other loner culprit, but his SEA pick wasn't able to take down the star studded LAR on the road. Bummer, but a nice try to say the least, DP.

Week 16 is upon us and it's going to be a race to the finish line, both for our members and NFL teams. 3 weeks remain and there's still a handful of teams fighting for playoff berths while the league also battles COVID protocols. As if picking winners wasn't difficult enough... Week 15 belonged to KS... Who will week 16 belong to?

Your President,

LF
